

Call for Papers for the
North Carolina Health Economics Colloquium

Hosted by:
The Department of Economics, Wake Forest University and the Eudaimonia Institute, Wake Forest University

Winston-Salem, NC

November 14th-15th, 2019

Summary of the Conference

We are pleased to announce the 2nd annual North Carolina Health Economics Colloquium will be held on November 14th and 15th, 2019, in the historic Davis House of the Eudaimonia Institute at Wake Forest University.

The purpose of NCHEC is to promote active discussion and exchange of current research at the intersection of microeconomics with health economics and policy, with a focus on researchers in academic communities of the North Carolina region.

Paper Submission and Decisions

Deadline for Submission: September 30, 2019

A limited number of papers will be accepted for presentation. Each paper will be allotted 45 minutes, including time for presentation and questions. We will aim for a mix of scholars- both established and new to the field- from area institutions.

If you would like to participate, please submit a PDF abstract of no more than two pages to daltonc@wfu.edu by September 30, 2019. Decisions will be made by October 14, 2019, and presenters must provide a draft paper by November 7, 2019.

Conference Logistics

A welcome dinner will be held in the evening of Thursday, November 14th, followed by a full day of presentations on Friday, November 15th. Overnight accommodation is at Graylyn International Conference Center at Wake Forest University. All travel, lodging, and meals will be covered by the conference hosts.